“ My brothers have pretty much summed up what Jim meant to the Simons boys. He basically was like another dad to us. Whenever Jim and our Dad was together it was an absolute joy to watch them do numerous activities together. And they always made sure that us boys were taken under their wings in terms of hunting, fishing, camping, etc. Thanks Jim for always being welcoming and providing us another role model to look up to. Rest in Peace.

“ As I sit in front of my laptop, I find myself struggling with emotions with the learning of the passing of a special dear friend of the Simons family. As my brother Jeff Simons, stated so well in an earlier tribute, there were many fond memories in my early childhood with Jim and my father. But what struck me more importantly was what a positive role model Jim and my father were on me. Sometimes as we grow older we lose sight of what we have accomplished and who we are. Reflecting back on my 55 yrs, I think I can safely state that there were (3) people in my life that set the foundation of whom I am: my parents and Jim George.

With that, I want to offer Jim the greatest gift I feel a person can offer and that is my utmost gratitude and respect. Your presence will be missed but your influence on those whom you were in contact will continue. I know it has with me.

Rest in peace.

“ I was deeply saddened to hear the news of Jim's passing. He was one of the few people besides my parents that has know me all 51 years of my life (Kathi and I wore born days apart at DC Hosp. which led Jim and my father to meet and be friends ever since). Jim and my father shared a passion for the outdoors which us boys got to enjoy once we became of age. I have many fond memories of these adventures with Doug, David, Scotty, and our fathers. Cruising down gravel roads in Jim's old Rambler station wagons on our way to the pheasant hunting spot, launching the duck boats on hogsback slough before dawn, staying at the roadside motels in Manitoba on those great Canadian duck hunts, catching bass and walleye on Clearwater and Minaki, and many other adventures. I also recall Jim's love of cooking. No one made a better camp breakfast than Jim (fried potatoes, eggs cooked in the grease of the pounds of bacon that Jim would prepare). Jim's sense of humor would always get someone in the group to chuckle. I am smiling right now just recalling his laugh, I will leave it at that.....

“ My brother Jim,. what can I say, he was a pain as a kid, as most brother and sister are. I'm sure that I was also a pain in his side as I was the youngest and could get away with just about anything. After he retired, He and Fran would come to Las Vegas for the winter. We always had a good time. When I would ask for money he would tell me that I would have to look elsewhere as he only had 50 cents, and as you know that won't get you much. Oh yes, he did give me a ticket voucher from Red Rock Casino for 40 cents. I have it and I framed it. I will miss him and his weekly phone calls just to see what I was cooking for Sunday Lunch. Fran and Him always came for Sunday Lunch when they were here.

“ Dear Fran and Family,
So sorry for you loss. Jim always seemed to have a smile and sort of an indescribable sort of sense of humor about him that always made you feel at ease. He will be missed yet but not forgotten.

“ There are so many memories that Uncle Jim left with me, and with Keaton. He was always able to make us laugh, and had a way of making you feel at home. He's the one who taught me how to water ski. I'll never look at a can of Popeye spinach without thinking of him and how he razzed Keaton about throwing him off the hot dog on the back of the boat because he hadn't eaten his spinach. Childhood memories are filled with Uncle Jim and the special times at the lake. As I got older, the invitation to come and visit was still there. We went to Minnesota for dinners over the border, and he even taught a guest of mine from Scotland how to water ski. He touched many lives, and he'll be greatly missed. He was a generous and fun man, and was my favorite uncle.

“ Jim was one of kind. He would show up every Monday, Wednesday, Friday in Cardiac Rehab not always with a smile on his face but would end putting a smile on our faces. He would joke to us about eating "bacon" and bring us "bacon recipes" He will be grately missed by all of us in Cardiac Rehab. He was a great person.

“ We believe that Jim (along with Howard Krause) saved our son's life in 1996. Our son and some friends were water skiing in April. The boat broke down out in the lake. Our son put on a wet suit and started to swim a long distance to shore. Jim and Howard observed this from shore. They did not think he would make it so they went out in a fishing boat and pulled him in. After 30 minutes in a hot shower his body temperature was only 94. We will be eternally grateful to Jim and Howard.
