“ I will always be grateful that Marion, my brother, came to Charles City after the massive tornado 45 years ago to help when we needed help the most. He got thru entry roads blocked by the highway patrol, through all the wreckage, located us at a friend's house, and took our children to relatives in Story City for their safety.

“ Marion was my brother. I was the youngest of six children and he was next to me. He graduated from high school in 1952 and I in 1953. We walked to country grade school together for eight years and drove to high school together. He was a wonderful brother and I have a lot of good memories about him. Ironically, he died on the same date his brother Tom died (2010). May they both rest in peace. Jean (Durbala) Hollinrake
