“ I first met Art a few years back at Trumbull Lake. I was coming back from a duck hunt and he was in the parking lot scouting ducks. We started fishing together and enjoyed many trips together between The Lakes and Lost Island. I will miss our conversations and fishing trips. God bless Art and family.

“ Will miss Art's smile and happy attitude in spite of all he endured this last year. He sure loved to fish and make flies for his fishing escapades! He and Becky are now together again...and that should bring some comfort to his family and friends.
