“ I have fond memories and stories of the days we both worked on Uncle Bob's farm. The nights we spent in the spring plowing and the cold days shelling corn in the winter cold. I remember when Uncle Bob gave a flock of turkeys and we found out they do not like rain. I have a Clem farm painting with a Holstein cow on it. Those days are missed by me. Thank you so much for your comment, Richard!! My dad told me so many stories from his days working on that farm. At least one of those turkeys followed him to school and he had to deal with that!

“ Clem was always good for a dry sense of humor. The McCoys have always meant a great deal to our family. Clem and Lorraine graciously allowed me and my sisters to be involved in almost every part of daily life when we were younger. All of my memories from our time on 23rd Street involved one or more McCoy. Lori, Jodi, Dad and I send our condolences and love.
