“ One of my early memories of Dwane was when he took Uncle Oscar, Kenny and me up to the lakes in his little Nash Metropolitan & drove out on the ice which was a little mushy & scared the heck out of me! We had lots of good times on the farm southwest of Laurens. I do remember shooting trap from the gravel road in front of their house. Several years ago we attended our cousin Allyson Anderson Book's wedding in Des Moines and later at the reception Dwane and I both had a little too much to drink, but we had a really good time! He always treated me and my brother Gary very good and always brought us up to date on his latest fishing adventure. He will be missed!! Lyle Rebhuhn, a cousin.

“ So many NETSCH memories are flooding my heart. The childhood ones are from the place south of town. Overalls. Hogs and the noise of their feeder lids banging in the middle of the night. Overnight stays under a PILE of blankets in a bed so high off the ground it almost required a step ladder to get in. Lawnmowers. Learning how to solder. Pulling each other around in the wagon. Swimming in the big animal watering tank after cleaning out the moss and gunk. Fishing - was it at Lost Island? Uncles and Rebhuhns shooting shotguns. Picnics. Electric race cars on the tracks in the basement. Laying on the floor, watching TV with cousins and pulling the blankets over our heads when there was kissing on the screen. Fireworks north of town where you entertained your California great nieces and nephews. Your love of the ham radio. Quick with a grin or smile. Slow to become angry. Patient and kind. Interested enough in others to ask questions and actually listen to their answers.

The last few times we were together are so special. The time we sat at Mom's and Tony and I listened to some of your stories is unforgettable. You were a good story teller. The twinkle in you eye when you said something not politically correct was so charming! Thank you, Aunt Peggy, for bringing such a wonderful man into our family.

To all of the Netschs - thank you for sharing Dwane with us.

So many fishing stories with Dwane. On one trip with Dwane and his best friend L.D. Runneberg I had brought a tub of Berkley Power Bait Leeches. After cleaning the boat for the trip home LD asked where the leeches were. Dwane said they were all dead so he threw them out. Two of the greatest guys I was so lucky to know and learn from!! May they now be together again!!

*A great story teller, listener, but most of all I feel was a darn good fisherman! Peggy and him stayed overnight one time with me in Shenandoah on their way to Texas and I remember he must have had a dozen fishing poles in his vehicle --- he meant business. A real friend!
