“ Did he live in England in the 50's and go by the nickname of Jo Jo? If so, I have some pictures that I would like to share with you.

“ Cher. Thoughts and prayers go out to you. It's a tough break my dear. I lost Hank in April and I still miss him. Be strong going ahead. If there is anything I can do please call me. Lori and Willy have my number. Call me just to talk. I'm here for you...Love you Cher...

“ Joe and Ed worked together for many years at Ferguson Manufacturing (at the old building). They spent many evenings playing chess and swapping stories. Cher, his wife, made blankets for each of our kids when they were born--my kids' favorite blankets (the ones they still look for when they need comfort). Brianna's blanket disappeared the day my dad (her Grandpa) died, and Cher kindly made her another similar blanket, which is still Brianna's favorite. I sure am glad Ed was there to greet Joe, and that both of their diseased hearts are now completely whole and healthy again, and that they can go back to those games of chess that they both enjoyed so much. But my heart is aching for Cher and for all the changes that lie ahead for her. I never saw one of them without the other. Joe and Cher took such good care of each other and both had such positive attitudes despite their many hardships. R.I.P. Joe Janecek. You will be missed.

“ Joe was a great guy, have known him ever since he moved to town. I will never forget the pheasant and the lunch bucket. Our private joke.

“ Joe always brought a smile to my face when I saw him at the hospital. No matter how rough he was feeling he always had a great attitude. I'm so glad we have the beaded hot air balloon he made for us to remember him by. My thoughts and prayers are with you during this difficult time.
